

Hill School opened in 1926 with five students in Middleburg, Virginia. In 1928 the school moved to a small tract of land at its current location on the southern edge of town. The campus expanded to 137 acres in 1991-92 through a magnanimous gift of land from the Clark Family.

The gift provided an extraordinary opportunity for us to create a unique learning environment for children. Our campus is designed to support a program that encourages students to become psychologically mature, self-monitoring, life-long learners.
