Conversation Starters

What have you learned about George Washington so far?

Where in the classroom is your favorite place to sit? Where would you like to sit? Who would make a good work partner?

What books have you been enjoying during Book Buddies?

What have you noticed what Tedd Arnold does in most of the Fly Guy books?

Are you working on reading or spelling the words on these cards? Let's practice.

I hear you went "fishing" in math class. Tell me about that.

Let's start your valentines cards! I hear you are having your party next Thursday!

Everyone has been shifted one week later.

Dear First Grader,

We will be celebrating the 100th day of school soon. You should start to think about a project to bring in. We will be putting our projects in the hallway for everyone to admire.

In the past kids have brought in: 100 stickers, 100 beads on a necklace, 100 legos in the shape of a box, 100 cotton balls, their name written 100 times, 100 snowflakes, 100 plastic ants, 100 crayons, 100 tally marks,

What small thing do you have a lot of?

Could you put them into groups of five, ten, twenty or twenty five to make 100?

Can you make it fit on a poster board or smaller? Something small enough that you can carry?

How will you make it stick together? Baggies? Tape?

Our estimated 100th day is February 24. If we have any more snow days it will be later than that. We will share our projects the whole week and be making some in the classroom.

Happy counting!

Valentine's Day is coming soon!

We will be making bags (in the classroom) to collect valentines. We ask that if your child brings in valentine cards, they do so for everyone. Cards without candy are encouraged.

Here is a class list. Have fun!
