

SECOND GRADE NEWS

January 24, 2019

FLAT ME

Tomorrow we will paint life sized Flat Mes. Working with our mentors, the 2nd graders will have their bodies traced and will paint their clothing on the life-sized paper. It is an extremely fun and detailed project.

Tomorrow, please dress your children in the clothing they want painted on their Flat Me—this is an important part of the painting process—it really helps the children and mentors know what to paint and what it should look like! They may not paint something that they are not wearing, and on the flipside, we may simplify a too-difficult clothing design.

We have many parent volunteers to keep us organized and on-track—look below for our energetic folks!

Today– 4:00

Ana Godoy

Susan McCaskey (cut the paper for us already!)

Ashley Whitner

Kendra McQuillan

Sean McQuillan

Gabe Vega

Tomorrow 9:30, Theater

(we would love 2 more parents to help mix paint beginning at 10:20)

Sam Calaluca

Catherine Heyres

Bethany Orosz (after 11:15)

Monday, Jan. 29-8:30-??, Theater

(more hands would make lighter work!)

Samantha Calaluca

Gabe Vega

Alison Robitaille

Bethany Orosz

Questions to Ask Your Second Grader:

Is 13 an even or an odd number? How do you know?

Add this number string: $5+21+10+12=$

How will you pose for your Flat Me? What are the rules while you and your mentors are painting?

Is dribbling difficult when playing basketball? Why or why not?

Let's be sure to stop in and see your fish and cardinal paintings! (near the office and the 7-8 hallway)

Are you getting enough lunch to eat? What do you not like that I pack for you?

Dates to Remember

Flat Me Painting Tomorrow

Ski Friday 1/25
11:50 dismissal

Ski Friday 2/1
11:50 dismissal